How risky is it?

The value of the fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

Genus Capital Management Inc. has rated the volatility of this fund as Medium. This rating is based on how much the fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the fund's returns, see the "What are the risks of investing in the fund?" section of the fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this fund does not have any guarantees. You may not get back the money you invest.

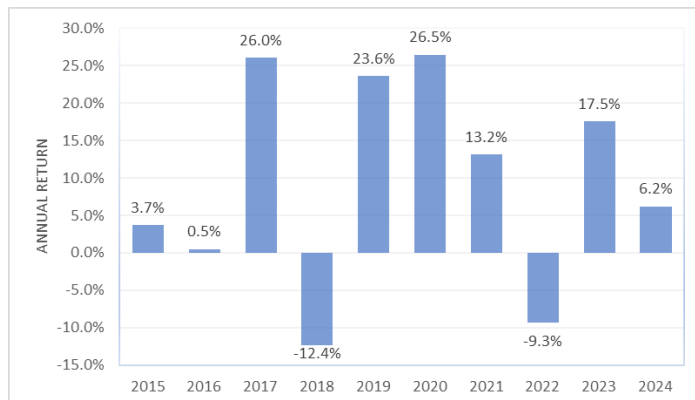

Genus High Impact Equity Fund - Series F

How has the fund performed?

This section tells you how Series F units of the fund have performed in the past. Returns are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the fund's returns.

Year-by-year returns

This chart shows how Series F units of the fund performed in each of the past 10 years*. The series dropped in value in 2 of the 10 years. The range of returns and change from year to year can help you assess how risky the fund has been in the past. It does not tell you how the fund will perform in the future.

Best and worst 3-month returns

This table shows the best and worst returns for Series F units of the fund in a 3-month period since its inception*. The best and worst 3-month returns could be higher or lower in the future. Consider how much of a loss you could afford to take in a short period of time.

	Return*	3 months ending	If you invested US$1,000 at the beginning of the period
Best Return	16.73%	June 30, 2020	Your investment would rise to US$1,167
Worst Return	-13.61%	December 31, 2018	Your investment would drop to US$864

Average return

An individual who invested US$1,000 in Series F of the fund 10 years ago would have US$2,267 on May 31, 2025*. This works out to an annual compounded return of 8.5%.

* Important note about the fund's performance

In reviewing the fund's past performance information, you should consider that: (i) the fund was not a reporting issuer over the entirety of the periods shown; (ii) the expenses of the fund would have been higher during such periods had the fund been subject to the additional requirements applicable to reporting issuers; (iii) during the time it was not a reporting issuer, the fund was not subject to with the investment restrictions and practices in National Instrument 81-102 Investment Funds; and (iv) Genus Capital Management Inc. has obtained exemptive relief on behalf of the fund to permit the disclosure of the performance data for the fund for the time period prior to it becoming a reporting issuer. In addition, the exemptive relief allows the fund to disclose performance data in this document and in sales communications relating to Series F units that shows how the Series O units of the fund have performed during periods in which the fund was not a reporting issuer. Series O units of the fund have only been offered on a private placement basis.

Don't buy this fund if:

- you are not willing to accept some fluctuation in the value of your investment

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the fund in a registered plan such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.
